Theodoros Michael wins in style both the CGF Men's Championship and the Men's National Championship at Eléa Estate Golf Course

A high quality field of local players, 54 men and 17 ladies, competed over the weekend for the titles of CGF Men's Champion and CGF Ladies Champion. The championships played over the weekend of 19 and 20 September were hosted at the excellently presented Eléa Estate Golf Course in Paphos.

Day 1 saw a three way race for the Men's title with Theodoros Michael of Aphrodite Hills, Jack Dyer of Secret Valley and Andrew Halifax of Eléa all tied at level par 71. In the Ladies Championship, Petra Pinotsis of Aphrodite Hills with a score of 91 led Eva Lindo of Eléa by one stroke, with Joanna Roussinia of Secret Valley in third place on 94.

The fact that Theo Michael, currently serving in the Cyprus Army, had to be on guard duty until the early hours of Sunday, seemed to have galvanise him for the final day. His 3 under par score of 68 left his opponents in the dust and gave him an unassailable lead and a win with a final score of 139. It took a countback to the final 3 holes to separate the evenly matched throughout the weekend, Jack Dyer and Drew Halifax in second and third respectively, both on 147 for the Championship. Theodoros' 139 also gave him the title of the CGF Men's National Champion 2020 with Nicosia's Demetris Paphitis in second place with a score of 165 and Dhekelia's Jim Livie in third on 171.

In the Ladies Championship, Petra Pinotsis' 95 on the last day was enough to win the championship, while Secret Valley's Joanna Roussinia playing a steady game of golf overcame Eléa's Eva Lindo's resistance to the runner's up spot with a score of 188 with Eva Lindo third on 192.

In their winners' speeches both Theodoros and Petra thanked the Cyprus Golf Federation for the well run event, the course managements and ground staff for the excellent condition of the course and heaped particular praise on the helpers/volunteers who assisted throughout the two days.

Cyprus Olympic Committee's General Secretary, General Charalambos Lottas attended the final day's play and who presented the winners with their trophies, said the he is becoming increasingly impressed with the sport and the skill and physical conditioning required to compete at top level.
